

TO TRY ANOTHER MODE OF WARFARE

FILIPINOS DECLARE GUERRILLA WARFARE WILL BE WAGED.

As Result of Disagreement Between Aguinaldo and the Filipino Minister of Foreign Affairs, Insurgents in Large Numbers Are Deserting the Army and Leaving For Their Homes

Manila, April 6.—[Special].—Prominent Filipinos of this city are of the opinion that the insurgents will not again oppose the Americans with their force.

From now on they declare that guerrilla warfare will be waged.

As the result of disagreement between Aguinaldo and the Filipino minister of foreign affairs, the insurgents in a large number are deserting the army and returning to their homes.

While the cruiser Baltimore was cruising in the Lingayen Gulf, a launch with boats and crew was sent ashore to reconnoiter. The insurgents fired on the boat, wounding an officer and sailor. The Baltimore then shelled the town of Sual with disastrous effect.

Bad water at Malolos is causing much sickness among MacArthur's men. A hundred and twenty-five soldiers were prostrated.

An escaped Spanish prisoner who came into the American lines, says that two thousand wounded Filipinos were brought to Malolos in one day last week.

While the proclamation of the Philippine commissioners is generally well received in Manila, it is evident that the insurgents have many sympathizers here. Proclamations posted in many parts of the town were destroyed in large numbers during the night. A strict watch is being kept for miscreants. A leader from the insurgent officers, arranging for an uprising in the penitentiary was intercepted by the American authorities.

Aguinaldo Not to be Found.

Manila, April 6.—[Special].—No news of Aguinaldo's whereabouts or his position among the Filipinos can be obtained. It is believed here he has gone into hiding.

Bandits Killed Natives.

Manila, April 6.—[Special].—Dispatches from Negros say that bandits have killed or captured twelve members of the native government force at Parades, also looted the town. Major Sims and two companies left for the scene.

They routed the bandits and burned the town in which they made their headquarters and captured thirty-five prisoners.

All Remaining Quiet

Manila, April 6.—[Special].—All remains quiet at the front, but MacArthur expects to advance in the near future. Thousands of Filipinos are massing near Calumpit, and the Americans are in hopes that they will give a battle.

Another wing of the insurgent army is forming in San Matzo valley in front of Hall's brigade.

Manila, April 6.—The Charleston has returned from cruising on the west coast of Luzon island. She made an examination of Lingayen gulf, on which are the ports nearest the terminus of the railway leading north from Manila.

A boat was sent to make soundings off the port of Agupian last Saturday afternoon. The rebels opened fire on the boat, slightly wounding the officer in charge.

The Charleston pitched a few shells into the town and the rebels took to the woods.

Preparing to Attack Calumpit. Manila, April 6.—The nucleus of the insurgent army is still at Calumpit. Dredges are at work clearing the channel of the Rio Grande, preparatory to sending the army gunboats to attack Calumpit.

The proclamation issued by the United States Philippine commission has been widely distributed, both in the Spanish and Tagal languages, and in Manila and Malolos it is attracting great attention.

Representative Filipinos approve the proclamation, but express their fears that it will reach the masses very slowly, as the native leaders will suppress it as much as possible.

Say Americans Sue for Peace.

The pacific inhabitants are still returning to their homes, but the rebel chiefs are sending word into all of the provinces announcing the infliction of terrible losses upon the Americans, who, they represent, have been driven into the walled city by the Filipino troops, and are suing for peace.

Heat May Evocate Hostilities.

Madrid, April 6.—Persons in Madrid who are acquainted with the climatic conditions in the island of Luzon think the Americans have acted wisely in profiting by the discouragement of the Filipinos to offer peace terms calculated to be acceptable to all parties. It is considered here that the heat of the on-coming season in the Philippines will effectually prevent the Americans from making a campaign in the interior of Luzon. Further active measures, it is declared here, will be impossible before October.

Harris Says They Seek Death.

Fort Worth, Tex., April 6.—Dr. Charles V. Harris of the medical department, U. S. A., lately from the Philippine Islands, says the reports of the excellent health of the American troops are false. Dr. Harris said that many United States soldiers, disheartened over their physical condition, deliberately place themselves as a target for the enemy's guns. It is the opinion of Dr. Harris that if the American troops remain in the Philippine islands any great length of time sickness and death will follow.

Report Aguinaldo Is Deposed.

Manila, April 6.—There are persistent rumors that Aguinaldo, the insurgent leader, has been supplanted in the control of Filipino affairs by Gen. Antonio Luna, commander in chief of the Filipino forces. Luna is described as being a typical belligerent.

Our Casualties in the Philippines.

Until Peace Is Ratified.

Washington, April 6.—The comptroller of the treasury, in response to a letter from the paymaster-general of the army, has rendered an opinion that volunteer troops yet in the service are, within the meaning of section 7 of the act of April 26, 1898, operating against the enemy, and officers serving with such troops who shall exercise under assignments in orders issued by competent authority, a command above that pertaining to their grade are entitled to receive pay and allowances for the grade appropriate to the command so exercised, notwithstanding such troops may have been notified by the secretary of war that they would be mustered out.

Serious Outlook in Russia.

London, April 6.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Times telegraphs an alarmist statement regarding the spread of serious labor troubles and strikes in the manufacturing districts of Russia. Towns, mills and factories, the correspondent declares, are literally inundated with secret socialist and revolutionary proclamations by agitators, who are undoubtedly assisted from abroad. All this, together with the agitation by the students, creates a serious political outlook.

For a German King in China.

Peking, April 6.—It is generally believed in foreign circles in Peking that the seizure of Kiao-Chow by Germany in November, 1897, was the first step toward the realization of a scheme to place a German king on Chinese soil. Prince Henry, the emperor's brother, it is believed, will be the king; the Chinese province of Shantung his kingdom.

Women Will Run the Town.

Beatrice, Kas., April 6.—In the city election here two tickets were in the field, one composed of women and the other of men. Mrs. Charles Totten was elected mayor and Mrs. Sheldon, Mrs. Schlicht, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Kerlin and Mrs. Watkins to the council, while Miss O'Neil, candidate for clerk, won easily.

PASSES RESOLUTION FOR CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT.

Also Change Time of Election to Spring.—Assembly Began At Last Order of Calendar to Advance Number of Bills Before Taking Up Anti-Pass Question—Respect to Judge Pinney.

Madison, April 5.—[Special].—The senate today passed the resolution for a constitutional amendment changing the time of the election of the state superintendent of public instruction to spring, making the term four years, to begin July 1.

The resolution fixing the date for final adjournment was laid over.

The bill supplying sections in the fire and police commission bill contained in the original law, but omitted in the revision by mistake, was passed in the senate under suspension of rules, and will be pushed to take effect before a change in city officials takes place.

The assembly began at last order of calendar this morning in order to advance a number of assembly bills before taking up the pass question.

The bills relating to lein on logs and lumber was killed by vote of nine to sixty.

The senate resolution of respect to Judge Pinney was adopted by rising vote.

The assembly laid the pass measures over until 5 o'clock this afternoon, and also killed the bill appropriating five thousand dollars to the home for fallen women at Eau Claire.

The situation is becoming very serious.

Spanish Officers Join Filipinos.

New York, April 6.—A dispatch to the Herald from Madrid says: "The Spanish war minister received information on Saturday that a large number of Spanish officers who had been prisoners in the hands of the Tagalos had entered the service of the latter. Among the prisoners were some chiefs of the Spanish general's staff and officers of artillery. In Spanish military circles this is held to explain the military organization of the Tagalos against the Americans, which has hitherto been inexplicable."

Li Hung Chang Now In Favor.

Washington, April 6.—The friendship which the empress dowager entertains for Li Hung Chang may result in his being recalled to power at an early day. There have been reports that this move was actually under way, but nothing official has been received here to bear this out. The main obstacle to his recall, it is said, is the difference between Russia and Great Britain as to the preponderance of power in China. Great Britain, it is said, will not now object to Li Hung Chang's recall.

Attacks Gen. Jaudenes.

Madrid, April 6.—The Nacional publishes a violent article against Gen. Jaudenes, the last captain-general of the Philippines. Among the grave accusations the paper makes against him is one affirming that he caused the breach blocks to be removed from the guns at Manila in order to prevent them from being fired. The artillery officers vainly protested against this action. The paper declares that Gen. Jaudenes intended to surrender Manila on July 5.

Grant Miners' Demands.

Des Moines, Iowa, April 6.—Two of the mines in this district have granted the demands of the striking miners for an eight-hour day and 85-cent scale instead of 70. Other operators say that they will allow their mines to remain idle rather than grant the demands of the strikers. Some colored miners are working, but white union men are trying to induce them to quit. No trouble is expected.

Paris, April 6.—[Special].—The last of the sensational revelations to be made by the Figaro in the Dreyfus case appeared today when that paper published the testimony of M. Bertulus, a magistrate who examined Picquart and investigated the cases of Esterhazy and Paty du Clam. When Esterhazy's papers were secured, Col. Henry was summoned by Bertulus, who told him the documents proved Esterhazy's forger, Paty du Clam a traitor, and that they had received assistance from Henry.

Henry thereupon cried, "Do not insist but save us. Honor is everything." Bertulus then said, "Let du Clam commit suicide this evening." Henry admitted that Bertulus was on the right scent.

May Disrupt Miners' Union.

Brazil, Ind., April 6.—The miners' committee and a committee of the operators owning machine mines met here Wednesday for the third time to arrange a scale. The miners' demand for a 10-cent advance in all departments of work was refused by the operators and the meeting adjourned sine die. The miners refuse to work until a scale is signed and consequently the four machine mines are closed down, and the employees, 700 in all, are idle. Some of the leading machine men are very angry at the pick miners for signing the scale until the machine workers had their trouble adjusted. The contention between the machine and pick men may cause a serious disruption in the miners' union.

Illinois Miners Are Idle.

Carlinville, Ill., April 6.—Eighteen hundred miners in southern Macoupin county have been idle three days, with no settlement in sight. The Consolidated and Madison companies refuse to grant the hoisting engineers of shafts at Mount Olive, Staunton, Gillespie and Clyde a raise to $70 a month, eight-hour days, and 30 cents an hour for extra labor. At Sorento and Coffee the raise has been given and the shafts are in operation. Staunton is experiencing a coal famine.

Trying to Save Alkali Deserts.

Investigation by the division of soils of the department of agriculture into the alkali waste lands of the Yellowstone valley, particularly in Montana, develop the fact that great tracts may be saved by underdrainage. The damage is due principally to excess of water used in irrigation and the resultant accumulation of salts. It is urged by the division officers that the land be saved from utter annihilation by underdrainage, which, though being expensive, is sure to be a paying investment.

English Feet of Foreign Birth.

Many of England's leading poets have had very mingled strains in their blood. Tennyson's extraction was Danish, French and English. Robert Browning had "brown" blood in his veins, for his grandmother was a creole lady. Rossetti was Italian, with an admixture of English blood; Algernon Charles Swinburne has both Scandinavian and French blood in his veins. Austin Dobson is French as well as English, and the late Coventry Patmore was "fractionally German."

In View of the Government's Decision.

to make a tour of Sardinia this year, the police there are making renewed efforts to exterminate brigandage, but beyond capturing an occasional bandit, their operations are futile. The latest development in Sardinian brigandage is a unique. The schoolmaster of the only school in Nuovo was suspected of giving information to the police. The brigands posted notices on the walls ordering parents not to send their children to school. The orders were implicitly obeyed, and the schoolmaster's occupation is gone.

Speaker Reed met Representative Lacey of Iowa in the shadow of the entrance to the members' lobby of the house. He peered at the Iowa man, who bears a strong resemblance to the secretary of war. Walking up to him and greeting him with a cheerful laugh and a handshake that conveyed a suggestion of great relief, he astounded the representative by drawing out: "Lacey, you look so much like the secretary of war that you ought to be whitewashed."

All deep sea sounding records are believed to have been broken by the British cruiser Penguin, which reports having sounded to a depth of 4,671 fathoms, or 28,372 feet, in the Pacific ocean between New Zealand and the Tonga island. The Penguin also found out that Falcon island, which was formed during a volcanic eruption in 1888 and disappeared last September, has sunk eighteen feet below the surface.

"Corpse Coins" as Mascots.

"Corpse coins" are treasured in the north of England. They are the coins that have lain over the eyes of their dead. By this means infection has been spread, but superstition causes the custom to continue. A poor collar or peasant would never think of doing anything important unless he has on his person coins that have been upon the eyes of his dead relatives.

THREE POWERS ARE ALERT.

Further Clash in Samoan Islands to Be Avoided.

AGREEMENT IS PROBABLE.

The German Government, It Is Said, Hopes to Secure Assent to a Partition Preliminary to the Final Settlement May Cause Trouble.

London, April 6.—Though the three governments desire to expedite matters in the arrangement of the personnel of the Samoan commission, it will probably require some weeks to settle the preliminaries, with Washington the seat of the deliberations. Foreseeing long and remote investigation and subsequent negotiations, the British foreign office is especially anxious to arrange a modus vivendi for temporary administration that will also avert further embarrassing proceedings by the admirals and consuls on the ground, of which, at Muscat and elsewhere, Lord Salisbury has recently had unpleasant experience. This desire sufficiently explains the cautious British acceptance of the commission.

Word comes from Berlin that the new German representative, now en route to Samoa, carries restraining hints from German traders there.

The German foreign office also finds precedent in Bismarck's condemnation of acts of the German consul ten years ago in Samoa that will aid it now in dealing with Rafeel and Rose in soothing sensitive German opinion.

The ultimate German aim is a friendly division of the islands, to which proposition official Berlin believes America will not object if its coaling station is secured. British policy rather awaits cautiously the results of the inquiry.

Angry German attacks are aimed now more at Great Britain than America and come mainly from irresponsible journals. Allowance must be made for German supersensitiveness over colonial commercial rivalries.

The Berlin correspondent of the Times says: "In official circles the Samoan situation is considered much improved and it is now confidently expected that Great Britain will accept Germany's proposal regarding unanimity in the investigation commission."

Chicago Live Stock Markets.

Chicago, April 5.—Values in general underwent little change today, trade ruling quiet all around at prices close to the late range. Some later sales of hogs were at stronger prices, 5c higher than early bids, and the average stood slightly higher than any time earlier this week. Cattle sold slowly, many of the medium lots of steers dragging, making Monday's prices with difficulty. Sheep and yearling stock, both woolled and clipped, sold at strong prices, but the lamb trade was inclined to weakness, many choice lots selling 5c below Tuesday's prices for such. Today's receipts are estimated at 14,000 cattle, 25,000 hogs and 15,000 sheep.

Cleveland Strike Growing.

Cleveland, April 6.—Within the last twenty-four hours 500 men have joined the carpenters' strike, which begun Monday. It is now estimated that over 1,500 men are on strike. A few of the smaller contractors have conceded the demands of the men. It is said by officials of the carpenters' union that 3,000 men will be out by Saturday unless their terms are agreed to. They demand an eight-hour day and 30 cents an hour. The contractors have offered 27 1/2 cents an hour with nine hours a day for five days and five hours Saturday. This offer has been rejected.

The One Hundred and Sixty-first did garrison duty at Savannah and was under the command of Col. Durbin of Anderson. The regiment did excellent service and returns with nearly its full numerical strength.

Albany, Ga., April 6.—Walter R. Jackson, his wife and the 3-months-old baby were found dead in bed this morning. Jackson and his wife each had a pistol shot in the head, while the child was shot through the body. It is evident that Jackson first shot his wife and child and then himself. Jackson married Janie Godwin, a leading society girl, a little over two years ago. He recently lost his position, and it is supposed he killed his family and himself in a fit of insanity.

TRIUMPH OF THE BEST.

An industrial note whose significance is obvious is heard in the shape of an announcement from Philadelphia that the Baldwin Locomotive Works has just closed a contract for the building of eighty-one locomotives, the largest single order ever received by the company. The locomotives are for use on new railroads now under construction in China. The contract was under consideration about a year ago, but the breaking out of the war with Spain opened up such an element of doubt regarding safe delivery that the matter was dropped for the time. The negotiations were recently renewed, and have just been brought to a conclusion and the contract signed. Over $300,000 is involved in the work, and the Baldwin company will rapidly push the construction of the locomotives. Shipment to China will begin in the course of a few weeks. Locomotive building, says The American Economist, is one of the industries that has been brought to its present stage of unrivaled success in some measure through the American policy.

The worsted and woolen trade of Yorkshire, England, with the United States has begun to improve, after a long depression. This is one of the exceptional results of protection. When this country is afflicted by hard times, there is little demand for the fine goods of Yorkshire, but when business here is good large purchases are made because people have the money to make them.—Buffalo (N. Y.) "Express."

The man who would cheer Aguinaldo's name at this stage of the proceedings would also denounce the flag. The United States should be made too hot for such people.

A Speaker Reed Sees It.
On the morning after the news of the battle of Manila reached Speaker Reed, he turned to one of the members of the house, who is noted for his strong evangelical convictions, and is also somewhat inclined toward the expansion programme, with this comment: "Well, I see that you have got 4,000 less Filipinos to convert to Christianity than you had yesterday. At that rate they will not last more than six months, and the spiritual work of preparing them for the other world should begin at once and be prosecuted with zeal."—New York Post.

CHASED BY WOLVES.

Before any railroad had been built along the upper Mississippi all traffic in the summer was by steamboat, which carried also the mail. In the winter everything was carried by stage. There was a line of mail stages between St. Paul and Prairie du Chien—or the southern terminus may have been La Crosse at the time of which I write. These stages followed the river—how much of the distance on the ice I can not say, but in my neighborhood, where the river expanded and became Lake Pepin, the route was all on the ice. Leading down to the lake, on both the Minnesota and Wisconsin sides, are many ravines or coulees, worn by the water courses and wooded. Even now there is much wild land among the bluffs.

It was in the latter part of January years ago that I found myself at Hawk's Landing, on the Minnesota side of the river just below the foot of the lake, whither I had gone with an uncle. He found that his business would detain him longer than he expected and he decided to send me back alone on the stage. It should have left the landing at 1 o'clock, but it was delayed somewhere down the river and did not arrive till nearly 3. It was a full afternoon's drive to Lake City, but the driver said he had a good team and promised to get through on time, notwithstanding the late start. He was a rough and dissipated man, but he had the reputation of always keeping sober till after the day's trip had been completed. But the delay may have upset him, and I think he began drinking before we started, although no one then noticed it. He certainly had provided himself with a large bottle of liquor, as I soon had occasion to know. I suppose I could not have been more than 12 or 13 years old, although a life in a new country and on a farm had given me ability to take care of myself beyond my years.

When we departed from the War Eagle House on the levee and swung up the road under the shadow of Wabasha bluff, with the horses at a gallop, I felt a sort of admiration for the driver, notwithstanding his roughness. We slackened somewhat when we got beyond the line of houses along the single street and soon rounded the bluff and kept along the edge of a bank above the frozen river.

We soon came to the lake and turned down Fond du Lac Point, and out upon the ice, where the road was marked by little cedars. I found cause to be alarmed at the state of the weather. The wind had freshened a great deal and the snow was drifting rapidly. It was not sufficient to shut out from our sight the row of evergreens, and we could see even the bluffs at either side of the lake; but the fine snow was sitting along over the crust like streaming hair and rapidly filling the track. This made our progress slow, but the condition of the driver was soon a greater hindrance. He drove either with the horses on a run or a slow walk, although they walked more than they ran.

We were not yet half way when the sun was only a little above the Minnesota bluffs, with big orange sun dogs standing up each side of it. Just as it disappeared below the bluffs the driver slid out of the seat into a drunken sleep in the bottom of the sleigh. I climbed over into the front seat and took the reins myself.

"You seem to know how to drive; do you think we can get there tonight?" asked the other passenger.

"I can drive four horses," I answered, very proudly. "We can get through."

THREW OUT THE TRUNKS.

I guess, if it doesn't storm so that we can't follow the trees.
I had for some time been looking anxiously for the lights of the town, although there was no hope of seeing them yet, when my attention was attracted by a dark object on the snow far to the right toward the Wisconsin shore.

The man saw it and said: "What's coming over there—some other team?"
"They wouldn't be going so fast," I answered, picking up the whip from the bottom of the sleigh. The shadow was now directly to the right.
"It's some sort of animal," went on the man. He paused for a moment and added: "They look like big dogs."

At that moment there came a cry I had so often heard at home, only much deeper, harsher and louder.
"They're wolves," I said, and I cracked the whip at the horses, although that was hardly necessary, as they heard the savage howl as well as we did and knew it meant danger.
The second time I looked back I saw that the pack was much nearer. I could make out the leaders and see that there must be twenty or thirty of the animals, all told. My fellow passenger was clinging to the seat and crying to me to drive faster, although the horses were fairly running away and I had practically no control over them one way or the other.

"Can't you throw out the trunk and back seat?" I shouted to him.
I heard the man throwing out the small sacks and the buffalo robes. The robes seemed to delay the wolves longer than anything else. They stopped and tore them to shreds. We got a quarter mile start. All of this time the drunken driver was sleeping like a log in the bottom of the sleigh.

The horses were becoming exhausted and I could feel that they were going slower. I now urged them on with whip and voice, but it seemed to make no difference. The howling behind us began to come plainer; the wolves had left the robes and were again gaining on us. Right ahead I could see a high ridge in the ice where it had cracked and shoved up. A notch had been cut in it just wide enough for a sleigh to pass through. I held the reins steady and tried to slow up a little, in the hope of steering safely through the narrow crack. As we came upon it I saw a dark streak between the rough cones at either side; the crack had opened two or three feet during the day and new ice had formed. We struck the opening in the ridge squarely; the high horse reared up and jumped over the new ice, but the other stepped on it and broke through with one forward leg. He fell, but the other horse dragged him and the sleigh beyond the crack, where we stopped all in a heap.

I jumped over the dashboard and fell in the snow beside the horse. He was struggling to rise, but I guessed what had happened and threw my body across his neck and felt of his leg. It was crushed and broken. I got out my knife, cut the breast strap which held the neckyoke, and called to the man to unhook the traces, which he managed to do at last.

The wounded horse was again struggling to rise and had sprawled himself out of the way. I shouted at the other horse; he started with a bound and the man and I threw ourselves into the sleigh, half knocking out our brains as our heads struck together. We looked back and saw the whole hungry pack fall upon the abandoned horse and bear him down just as the poor animal had succeeded in getting upon his three sound legs.

The horse that was still attached to the sleigh plunged on bravely for some distance, with the sleigh tongue almost plowing in the snow, but he soon tired out and dragged himself along in a startled way. But it made no difference, as the wolves never pursued us again.

We got out and walked beside the sleigh to keep warm, and as the crack was only two miles from town, it was not long before we reached our destination. A party of men went back to get a shot at the wolves, but their hunger being satisfied on the fallen horse, they made off before the hunters could reach them. The next morning the passenger took the down stage back to civilization, vowing that he had had enough of the northwest. The drunken driver was promptly discharged by the stage company.—Youth's Companion.

FIVE STORY BLOCK MUCH TOO LOFTY

OWNER TALKS LOWERING IT TWO STORIES.

The Highest Building in the City May Soon Be Made Three Stories—Has Not Been On Paying Basis—Is Owned By Milwaukee Parties.

Five story buildings in Janesville are not a paying investment; when elevator service is not included.

C. B. Whitnall, of Milwaukee, owner of the five-story block at Nos. 65 and 67 East Milwaukee street, has come to that conclusion and now has under advisement the remodeling of the Whitnall block.

If his present plans are carried out it is intended to make the building a three story structure instead of five.

Since its erection the fourth and fifth floors have never been desirable for renting purposes for the reason that they were too high to reach, when the time means of travel was afoot. At the time the block was erected tenement houses in the Bower City at a fair renting price were hard to secure and it was then thought that by erecting a building in the business section that flats as well as four floors would easily rent. Since the erection of this sky scraper, houses in all parts of the city have been built for renting purposes.

Walter Helms, who acts as local agent for Mr. Whitnall, stated today that he had written the owner a letter giving his views of how to remodel the building so that it would rent at good prices.

Mr. Helms recommended that the fourth and fifth floors be raised and the balance of the building remodeled into flats in a modern way.

Mr. Whitnall answered, saying, that he thought Mr. Helms' suggestion a good one and in keeping with ideas that he had had for some time.

Mr. Whitnall is expected here soon to make definite arrangements.

The Whitnall block for many years was known as the Williams block.

The ground floor is now occupied by Kronitz Bros. and H. S. Johnson.

The piece is clever itself and it is presented by one of the best companies seen here in farce comedy in a long time. The music is new and catchy, the humor is clean and the costumes and scenery are all that could be desired."

Looking on the Bright Side.

"Well," said the man on the apple barrel, "as far as I can see Dewey is a right smart kind of a feller, but he made a terrible mistake."

"What was that?" asked three indignant citizens on the row of nail kegs behind the stove.

"Why, it was him what took Aguinaldo over to the Philippines, when he was so far away he couldn't of swum back, wasn't it?"

"Yes," said the man who was sorting the nails, "but if he hadn't done it the American soldiers wouldn't have the chance to be a-chasin' Ag up through the Philippine mountains to-day and winnin' glory, would they?"

The man on the apple barrel could only chew on and silently admit that logic was against him.—Chicago Daily News.

Gesture Language in Australia.

Far away from civilization gesture language is still extant in Australia. Some of the tribes possess such an excellent code that it is almost as efficient as the spoken language.

A Stream of Ink.

In Algeria there is a small stream which the chemistry of Nature has converted into true ink. It is formed by the union of two rivulets, one of which is very strong impregnated with iron, while the other, meandering through a peat marsh, imbibes gallic acid, another ingredient in the formation of ink. Letters and manuscript matter are satisfactorily written with this singular natural compound of iron and gallic acid.

PREFERRED MADISON TO JANESVILLE

CAPITAL CITY SECURES BIG WOODMEN PICNIC.

Delegates From the Bower City Were In Beloit Yesterday and Report a Pleasant Time—Time of Picnic This Year Is June First At Beloit.

Delegates from Florence Camp No. 366 Modern Woodmen of America left Janesville yesterday for Beloit, where they endeavored to secure for the Bower City the big Woodmen picnic of 1900.

They were unsuccessful, and after a short but lively contest the prize was awarded to Madison.

E. A. Howell presided at the business session. The date of the Beloit picnic was fixed for June 1. Mayor Whalen of Madison, asked that his city be given the 1900 picnic. Someone said a word for Janesville. Mr. Whalen replied that the delegates could wash their feet in Rock river, but they could bathe all over in the lakes about Madison. Woodmen take to water, and they unanimously chose Madison.

The citizens of Beloit gave the visiting delegates a good time during the entire day.

The fire department was called out and gave an excellent exhibition.

At 1 o'clock the visiting delegates, committees of the local Woodmen and prominent citizens gathered at a banquet board in Odd Fellows' hall. Here the Royal Neighbors had prepared an elegant repast which was spread on three long tables decorated with ferns and palms.

FAIRFIELD RE-ELECTS OFFICERS

Funeral of the Late Alva Johnson Held Saturday.

Fairfield, April 6.—Our town did a wise thing in re-electing the officers of last year. They all did excellent service for the town, and it is but right that they should be continued. The funeral of the late Alva Johnson was held from the family residence one and one-half mile east of this village on Saturday, April 1, conducted by Rev. K. K. Manaton, of Delavan. For nearly sixty years Mr. Johnson has resided in this vicinity, having located here in 1839. He died March 30, aged eighty-seven years and one day, leaving a wife, four sons and two daughters, and a large circle of friends and neighbors who will miss him in the daily walks of life.

Mrs. C. Hackwell is spending a couple of weeks with friends in Janesville. The next meeting of the Ladies' Industrial society will be at the home of Mrs. Charles Robinson. There were no services at the church last Sunday and there will probably be none until the improvements are completed.

Mrs. Addie Cutter is visiting her sister at Whitewater. Mrs. W. Dykeman has been quite unwell the past week.

PUBLIC RECEPTION AT LINCOLN SCHOOL

SCHOOL ART AUXILIARY INVITES ALL TO ATTEND.

To Be Held Saturday Afternoon, From Three to Six O'clock—Will Show An Example of What the Society Is Doing For the Schools in the City.

The School Art Auxiliary cordially invites the public to attend a reception at Lincoln school, Room No. 1, on Saturday afternoon, April 8, from three to six.

A committee of the Auxiliary has been busy during vacation, transforming the room where the reception is to be held, until it is now fair example of what the society wishes to do for every school room in our city. This one was cheerless and depressing. It is now bright and cheerful, and the pictures which have been placed there can have only an elevating and ennobling influence upon the pupils who may see and enjoy them.

There are some earnest workers and enthusiastic lovers of children in the Auxiliary, but the success of their work will depend largely upon the encouragement and support given by the public. It is desirable that all parents and friends of school children attend this reception on Saturday and see for themselves what the work is which the society proposes to do. It is surely an improvement that will interest every liberal minded citizen.

GEN. GOMEZ WILL COMMAND.

Asked to Remain at the Head of Cuban Forces.

DEFINITE ACTION DELAYED.

It is Generally Believed That the Old Veteran Will Accede to the Desire of His Comrades—Committees to Distribute Money to the Army.

Havana, April 6.—One of the results following the dissolution of the Cuban assembly will be the reinstating of Gen. Maximo Gomez in his old position of commander-in-chief of the Cuban army, until the Cuban forces are disbanded.

A number of the Cuban generals met at Marianao Wednesday for the purpose of taking action in the matter. They were all willing to re-elect Gen. Gomez as commander-in-chief, but it was decided to take no definite action until Gen. Pedro Betancourt, the commander in Matanzas, and Gen. Pedro Diaz, commander in Pinar del Rio, were heard from, they not having been able to attend the meeting.

The delay is merely a matter of form, as it is known that both generals are favorable to Gen. Gomez. Another meeting will be held on Friday, when action will be taken. It is hoped that the desire of the generals to have Gomez as their commander will lead him to reconsider his determination to leave the island and go to San Domingo.

Maj. Kennon visited Gen. Gomez Wednesday and questioned him concerning the Cuban army. It has been decided to appoint committees to pay the troops in each province. Each committee will consist of two Cuban officers and one American.

They will investigate the number and condition of the troops and pay them their pro rata share of the $3,000,000 given by the American government.

OMNIBUS BILL IS PASSED.

Recording of an Absentee's Vote All but Causes Riot at Springfield.

Springfield, Ill., April 6.—Amid confusion and uproar, protest and denunciation the house Wednesday passed the omnibus appropriation bill. The action, it is believed, will permit the adjournment of the legislature next week, as previously agreed upon.

It was by the vote of Dennis J. Leahy, a democrat, at present absent in Chicago, that the appropriation bill secured the necessary affirmative votes. Speaker Sherman, who had taken the floor during the debate, read a telegram from Leahy asking that his vote be recorded. This was ordered, despite protests from the democrats. Personal clashes seemed possible, when Bush (rep.) of Du Page county, who had refused to vote, arose and asked that he be recorded for the measure. This gave the necessary total, and the measure was declared passed.

The senate sent to committee on warehouses' house bill repealing warehouse law of last session; made special order for next Friday drew house bill to prevent importation of labor from other states, now on order of passage; sent to third reading committee building and loan bill legalizing prepaid stock and permitting application in amounts of even hundred dollars on loans; sent to third reading primary election bill applying to counties aside from Cook; by vote of 29 to 3 passed Dunlap bill creating office of state food commissioner to enforce pure food laws; Milchrist bill appropriating $6,500 for monuments to Illinois troops on Shiloh battlefield; killed Begole bill transferring fourth district Appellate court from Mount Vernon to East St. Louis.

The house, by vote of 36 yeas to 77 nays, failed to pass committee bill fixing pay of members of general assembly at $1,500 per annum; notice of motion to reconsider given by Mr. Lantz; passed Curtis bill appropriating $25,000 for corn exhibit at Paris exposition; passed Elgin Pontiac reformatory appropriation bill; failed to pass Ailing appropriation bill for payment for uniforms sold to Illinois naval militia in 1895; notice of motion to reconsider given by Mr. Ailing; passed omnibus appropriation bill for state institutions; sent to second reading committee Lincoln monument bill.

BLAMES BEEF FOR ILLNESS.

Lieut.-Col. Maus Scores the Canned Roast Beef.

Washington, April 6.—Army beef was blamed for the sickening of one entire company of the Seventh Illinois regiment in the testimony before the court of inquiry Wednesday. The witness, Lieut.-Col. Maus, said that those affected by the bad meat proved the most ready victims of typhoid fever. One entire consignment of canned beef would have been cremated, but the agents for the packers rescued and overhauled it.

Dr. Samuel A. Currie, lieutenant-colonel of the Second New Jersey, said that a remarkable feature of the meat was that it kept so well, although its smell was offensive. The officer found salicylic and boric acids in some samples of the meat he tested. He deemed the beef unfit for food and advised his men not to eat it.

Prof. Chittenden, an expert, who examined canned meat on behalf of the court, reported that he found the beef good. No chemicals were developed by his tests and the meat would keep for hours without decomposing.

"LET NATURE CAPER."

Scotch Professor Who Could Enjoy a Good Joke.

A writer in the Illustrated London News, recalling the days when Prof. Allman taught natural history in the Edinburgh university, embalms him in a fragrant memory as one of the few teachers who could take a joke and not take offense. He says: "It was in the year of a certain Paris exhibition, and Allman had been lecturing on a certain small beast called the gregarina, which dwells as an unbidden guest in the digestive system of the earthworm. The next day some students placed the following conundrum on the blackboard before lecture: 'Why is the gregarina like the French exhibition? Because it's a Paris sight (parasite)!' Then, when Allman began his lecture and referred to the character of the gregarina, a voice was heard saying: 'Look at the blackboard, sir!' The result may be better imagined than described. There was a roar of laughter in which the genial professor joined heartily, and the business of the class was resumed." A touch of humanity like this makes life worth living. It is so good now and then, as old Lyman Beecher used to say, "to let nature caper." For, after all, it is nature that we love, even if it is art that we admire. Is it not in one of Bret Harte's sketches that he describes the play in a certain rough wooden theater in the far west and tells us how, one night, there was heard during the performance that unwonted sound, the cry of a baby, and how a shaggy ranchman arose and thus addressed the orchestra: "Sonnies, stop your darned fiddles and let's hear the baby cry; I ain't heard such a blessed sound for years!"

Chinese Preventative of Nervousness
It is averred by a famous Chinese doctor that nervousness is kept out of the celestial empire by the use of soft-soled shoes. The hard soles worn by the Anglo-Saxon race are said to be the cause of their extreme nervous temperament.

Washington Elm Decaying.

The historic Washington elm, in Cambridge, Mass., beneath whose branches General Washington took command of the continental army, is rapidly decaying, and the Cambridge park commissioners say that it will be impossible to save it more than a few years longer. A short time ago workmen went over the tree and cut off a considerable amount of dead wood, and there is not very much left to keep alive. It is intended to make a thorough overhauling of the tree in the spring, and to do everything possible to preserve it.

Fifty Cents the Scarf.

The quality of the silks and the large shapes are unmatched elsewhere for less than $1.00, while the patterns and color combinations cannot be had anywhere else at any price.

Our Fifty Cent Neckwear

Has made our Furnishing Goods Department famous, but there are other things contained in that department which, though less conducive to attractiveness, are just as essential to comfort and which are just as lowly priced.

For Instance,

Our Glove Department

In which is found our famous Kennedy Glove for street wear, and is used for driving.

Sells at $1.00 & $1.50.

This Glove is much more serviceable for driving than the majority of Gloves because of its make. It has a double "quirk" finger making it fit the hand easily and smoothly and preventing it from ripping.

We are on hand, as usual, with our celebrated ADLER Gloves, which we have in the new colorings of tans and browns; also the new shades of grey, including that popular shade known as "London grey".

They Sell at $1.50.

GEN. MONTENGRO
KILLED IN BATTLE

HE WAS AN INFLUENTIAL
LEADER OF INSURGENTS.

News Brought to Malolos Today By Pacificos—Believed to Have Fallen
in Battle On Outskirts of Malolos—Bandit Raid Is Promptly Punished.

Manila, April 7.—[Special]—General Montenegro, next to Aguinaldo, the most influential of the insurgent leaders, was killed today by Pacificos. He is believed to have fallen in the battle on the outskirts of Malolos.

Manila, April 7.—Papaissio, the chief of the Negros island mountain bandits, on March 27 killed the judge of Jimmeylan, wounded a military chief, and killed or captured ten natives. The government authorities at Paradise then issued a proclamation calling for an uprising against the Americans.

Col. Smith, the military governor of the island, upon learning of this, sent two companies of troops under Major Simewater and two companies under
Col. Duboce. On April 2 Major Sime-water's force routed the bandits, burned Paradise and captured twenty-five prisoners. Papaissio retreated toward the position of Col. Duboce.

On Gen. MacArthur's front the main body of the insurgents remains in the vicinity of Calumpit, while the other branch, which has apparently been augmented, is massing in the Mateo valley, near the position of Gen. Hall's brigade.

Malolos proves to be an unsatisfactory base of action, owing to the unwholesome condition of the water, and it is probable that a change will be made to the northward.

SLOW WORK IN PHILIPPINES.

Disadvantages Met with by American Forces Cause Delay.

Manila March 4 (per Steamer Arizona to San Francisco, April 7).—Although the rupture between the American and native forces occurred exactly one month ago today, the conquest of the latter by the former, which has long been conceded a necessity, can scarcely be said to have commenced as yet.

Had the Americans been in a position to follow up their advantage and keep right after the flying rebels, disorganized as they were by that first unexpected advance, there is no doubt that the question of supremacy would have been settled by this time, once and for all time. As soon as it dawned upon them that the Americans were still on the defensive and no further advance was to be feared, the rebels again assumed the aggressive, adopting the same bushwhacking tactics
which had proved so successful against their old enemy, the Spaniards.

If the entire rebel force could be corralled in any one section of the island the work of subduing it would be very simple and soon accomplished, without a doubt. But on the island of Luzon alone a well-equipped army of over 13,000 men has only succeeded in clearing the country within a radius of five miles from Manila, so far,
and no one knows with any degree of certainty what there is ahead. It is certain, however, that the further they penetrate into the wilds of the interior
the greater will be the disadvantage to the white troops, since swamp and jungle fighting are the strong points of the natives. It is also certain that what is to be done must be accomplished before the rainy season, because apart from the consideration of the health of the troops, most of the country is absolutely impassable from May to October.

If their foolhardy and hardy leaders would only see that there can be but one outcome of the struggle with such a nation as the United States all would be well, but unfortunately for the Tagalos they deliberately shut their eyes to the truth, and those who know them say that nothing short of extermination will insure peace in the Philippines.

According to the stories related by the natives, more Americans are being killed every day than have yet landed on the islands. In the matter of exaggeration of the enemy's loss, however, they are not alone, for our own troops are very prone to fall into the same error—in fact, to hear the men relating the execution they had done during the day at supper time
one might be led to believe the country was strewn with dead Filipinos.
Yet, with the exception of the two big fights, the largest number of killed in one day has been 113, most of whom were mown down by the Gatlings on the river gunboat Laguna de Bay near San Pedro Macati.

Arizona Brings Sick Soldiers.

San Francisco, Cal., April 7.—The United States transport Arizona arrived Thursday, twenty-eight days
from Manila, with sick and invalid soldiers and a few officers. Among the officers were Major Williams of the Nebraska regiment; Lieut. Hogan of the California regiment, who was wounded in the attack on Manila;
Lieut. Irwin of the Washington volunteers, and Surgeon C. Quinan, in charge of the sick. There are 143 sick men on board. No deaths occurred on the voyage.

MORALISTIC CLUB BANQUET

Took Place This Afternoon—Enjoyable Time.

Near the beginning of the winter term of school, there was organized in the High school a club known as the Moralistic club. It can be judged from the name and the fact that it now has forty members, the amount of work it is doing.

At the beginning of this term there was a surplus in the treasury, and at a special meeting, it was decided to give a banquet to its members.

This banquet took place this afternoon, when an enjoyable time was had.
It was largely attended, and the officers resolved to make the club more of a success in the future than in the past.

VERY TROUBLOUS
DAYS FOR SAMOA

MATAAFA'S FORCES WERE SHELLED REPEATEDLY.

Sailors Protecting Their Property—
American and British Commanders Awaiting Instructions From Their Governments—Shelling Continues
During the Meantime.

Apia, Samoa, via San Francisco
March 24.—[Special]—The last few days
have been exceedingly troublesome ones for Samoa. Mataafa's forces were repeatedly shelled by the American and British warships and the casualties on both sides are considerable.

The sailors are protecting property
here.

The American and British commanders are awaiting instructions from their governments. The shelling proceeds
during the meantime.

Admiral Kautz has issued a proclamation ordering the Mataafa to return to their homes and obey the laws of the Berlin treaty, as the so called Mataafa government has no legal standing.

NEW YORK FAILURE

Causes Semi-Panic in Wall Street—
Big Slump in Industrials—Much Excitement.

New York, April 7.—[Special]—The Dimeck & Co. stock exchange firm, which failed today has been the cause of a panic in Wall street this morning,
a big slump in industrials dragging down
the rest of the market. There is much excitement on the change.

RELEASE OF PRISONERS

Impossible to Secure the Liberty of Spanish Prisoners While Filipinos Fight Americans.

Rios has notified the government that it is impossible to secure a release of the Spanish Prisoners held by the Filipinos,
while the latter continue fighting the Americans.

Raffles Off a Week's Labor.

Joseph Miller, a saloon-keeper forced out of business by failure to pay the city license at Terre Haute, Ind., will get $201 for a week's labor. Miller tried to get work as a bartender, but did not succeed. He then decided to raffle off his services for a week. The tickets are numbered from 1 to 200.
Each is in a sealed envelope and the purchaser of an envelope pays from 1 cent to $2. The aggregate is $201. Miller promises to perform any labor required of him by the holder of the winning ticket, and has disposed of nearly all of the 200 issued.—Green Bay, Wis., Gazette.

Beat His Head Until Dead.

William Burgess, keeper of the city pesthouse at Paducah, Ky., who, a few nights since, because of alleged troubles, attempted suicide by beating himself on the head with a brick, laying out all night in the cold, has died of his injuries. He rallied long enough once to explain that his condition was self-inflicted, he desiring death.

SUPPOSED ROBBERS
PLEAD NOT GUILTY

MEN CHARGED WITH ROBBING
BANK OF AMHERST.

Trial Fixed For May 22—Efforts to Prevent Ex-Banker Clements Being Taken Back to Minnesota—Refuse
Burial of John C. Hall At Fond du Lac—State News.

Stevens Point, Wis., April 7.—The Amherst bank robbers were arraigned in the circuit court today, and, upon pleading not guilty, were remanded to jail to await trial, which, it is expected, will take place about May 22. Their attorney argued an application, asking that the $2,178 taken from them by the officers when first searched, be turned over to them to pay their attorney. The application was denied by Judge Webb, and the money will remain in the custody of John A. Murat, county judge. If convicted, their attorney will be paid for by the county. If acquitted, the money taken will be refunded to them and they will pay their own attorney.

A motion will be made to have Burns
and Kelly tried separately from Harrington and Ratigan.

Burns is having considerable trouble
with his stomach, and was so ill today
that he had to be assisted into the court room.

Ratigan was visited today by his brother, twenty years old, an employee at the stock yards in Chicago. He said his mother had worried herself sick over her son, the alleged bank robber.

Ex-Banker Clements' Case.

Madison, Wis., April 7.—Attorney General Hicks heard an argument by Attorney Gil Woodard of La Crosse, today against the extradition of J. R.
Clements of that city, who is asked by the Minnesota authorities for an alleged violation of the banking laws of that state. A requisition was made on Governor Scofield by the governor of Minnesota for Mr. Clements, who was the manager of a bank at Preston, Minn., until the bank failed last fall. He then removed to La Crosse. The Minnesota authorities claim that he violated the law in the management of the bank, but Attorney Woodard insists that he committed no offense against the laws of Minnesota. Mr. Woodard filed a brief with the attorney general to prove his point, and J. W. Hopp, the district attorney of the county in which the bank was operated, was given a few days in which to make a brief in opposition.

For a Labor Demonstration.

Green Bay, Wis., April 7.—Arrangements have been started by the Trades council for what promises to be one of the largest union labor demonstrations ever held in Green Bay. It will be in the form of a large mass meeting, open to everybody. Turner hall has been engaged and E. P. Sargent, of Peoria, Ill., grand master of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, will be the speaker.
Preceding the meeting there will be a monster street parade. May 4 will probably be the date.

Will Make an Investigation.

Fond du Lac, Wis., April 7.—The health department has refused to issue a burial permit for John C. Hall, who died suddenly at the Beaman house Wednesday. The physicians who were called stated that there was evidence of poison about the stomach, but were unable to determine the nature. It is believed to be alcohol poison.

last week of his retirement from active connection with the paper and announced that it has passed into the management of Henry C. Warren and George C.

Spain's Only Naval Victory.

Only once in their history as a na-naval victory. That was at the battle of Venetians and Genoese, they annihilated the Turkish fleet.

government with reference to the

ELEVEN PERSONS
PERISH IN FLAMES

MANSIONS DESTROYED ON FIFTH AVE. NEW YORK.

First Blaze Started in the Residence of Wallace Andrews—Sparks Set Fire
to House of Albert Adams—Several Perished, Many Injured and a Few
Missing—Bodies Taken From Ruins

New York, April 7.—[Special]—Eleven persons, possibly more, lost their lives in two fires which destroyed mansions in the millionaire section of Fifth avenue
early this morning.

The first blaze started in the residence of Wallace Andrews, a millionaire. Mrs.
O. G. St. John, sister of Mrs. Andrews, and her three children and three servants perished in the flames. Two servants were seriously injured.

The sparks from Andrews' residence
set fire to the house of Albert Adams.
Mrs. Mary Langran, the housekeeper, perished. Mr. Adams, two of his daughters and three servants were badly injured.

All the bodies of the known dead were taken from the ruins of both buildings, but it is feared that other lives were lost.

Several persons are missing, among them Andrews and his wife.

The bodies of Andrews and wife and another servant were found shortly after daylight.

The list known to be dead now reach eleven. The dead are: Wallace Andrews, Mrs. Andrews, Mrs. G. C. St.
John, Austin Wallace, Fred St. John,
Mary Baldwin, Mary Flannigan, Annie Neary, Eva Patterson and Adam's housekeeper.

A gas explosion in the basement of Andrews' mansion started the fire.

Both fires occurred in the heart of the millionaire district and the whole neighborhood was thrown into a panic.

Many mansions in the vicinity of the fire were thrown open for the care of the injured.

Mrs. St. John's two maids are still missing.

Scenes at the Fire

The Adams residence is two blocks
from the Andrews mansion.

The curtains ignited by sparks from the Andrews fire while one of Adams' daughters was looking out of the window.

Andrews and his wife were found locked in each others arms.

When the firemen reached the scene of the fire, they were unable to do anything but save the inmates.

Two servants saved their lives by jumping, but the injuries they received will probably prove fatal.

The mansion is completely ruined, but the Adams residence is not so badly damaged. The loss to the latter is placed at ten thousand dollars.

The housekeeper, the only person who perished there was found dead in her bed.

Andrews was president of the New York Steam Heating company.

Searching the Ruins.

Firemen are now searching the ruins
for the bodies of Kate Downey and Marie Roth, Mrs. St. John's maid, who undoubtedly perished.

Mrs. St. John was still alive when taken from the building by several policemen. They found her kneeling over her baby's crib, dying. Tenderly as possible
she was carried down the ladder, but expired before she reached the street.

Two more bodies supposed to be those of the missing maids, were found this afternoon.

Nearly all of the bodies taken from the Andrews mansion were burned: beyond identification.

BIG STORM IS RAGING

Fourteen Fishing Boats Missing in the British Islands—Loss of Life Feared.

London, April 7.—[Special]—A big storm is raging over the British Islands.
Fourteen fishing boats are missing. It is feared that there has been a great loss of life on the Irish coast.

Want Mr. Roberts Expelled.

Provincetown, Mass., April 7.—The southern New England Methodist conference, in session here, adopted by a rising unanimous vote a resolution calling on congress to expel Congressman Roberts of Utah for openly professing polygamy and for the passage of an amendment to the constitution forever prohibiting the practice of polygamy and disfranchising any one guilty of it.

Combine of Paper Mills.

Springfield, Mass., April 7.—Rapid progress has been made within the last few weeks in the details of the combine of writing-paper mills of the country, and it is now practically assured that the deal will be completed and the new corporation will be in operation about June 1. The capitalization of the combine, as at present planned, will be $42,500,000.

Mail for Mexico Burned.

City of Mexico, April 7.—The mail leaving New York on March 31 and Chicago on April 1 for the City of Mexico was destroyed by fire on Tuesday morning. While the mail train on the Mexican National railway due here Thursday was passing Saltillo at high speed, fire broke out in the mail car,
which, with its contents, was destroyed.

MANSFIELD NOT COMING

Manager Myers Would Have to Give Fifteen Hundred Guarantee.

Manager P. L. Myers is in receipt of a letter from Manager Jos. H. Dillon stating that Richard Mansfield and his company would not think of coming to Janesville unless they secured a $1,500 guarantee. Even at that price there was much doubt about their coming.

Manager Myers offered Mansfield and his company $1,000 to come.

At this rate every seat in the opera house would have to be taken at $2 each.

One hundred and fifty people are carried by Mansfield on a special train at a daily expense of $800.

It is safe to say that Janesville will not see Richard Mansfield this season as the risk of such a large guarantee is too great for a town of this size.

BELOIT BAND CONCERT

Under Direction of New Leader, Richard Walsh—Charles Munson Resigned as Leader.

Beloit, Wis., April 7.—[Special]—
The Beloit City band gave their regular weekly promenade concert at their hall last evening. It was under their new leader, Richard Walsh, Charles Munson having given up his position which he has held for the last two years. Mr.
Munson resigned as he felt that his business would not allow him to continue to conduct the band.

A very pleasant surprise was given Mr.
Munson last evening by the presentation of a gold watch, a token of the esteem in which he is held by the band.
Mr. Munson still plays in the band and last evening the band had pre-arranged that when their leader, Mr.
Walsh, gave the signal to start a certain piece that all should appear to be ready to play and yet not to make a sound. This was done and consequently no one started but Mr. Munson, and he being the only one playing, the leader called him forward, and Mr. Munson said, "I was playing it as it was written." At this point Mr. Walsh, in behalf of the band, presented him with the watch, which was a complete surprise to Mr. Munson and in a few words he expressed his appreciation for the gift.

the Assembly—Keene's Bill.

Madison, April 7.—[Special]—The anti-pass constitutional amendment resolution is finally adopted in both houses.

After consulting with other parliamentarians, Speaker Ray decided that

That body promptly adopted it without debate.

The resolution fixing the date of final adjournment was again laid over until Monday.

Governor Scofield's veto of the Milwaukee water registrar and public museum bills were both sustained.

The assembly went through a long

schools to have a certificate of qualification.

Dennett's bill providing for licensing

KLONDIKE YIELDS $30,000,000

Canada Gets One-Third of the Amount—Silver Output Increasing.

Montreal, April 7.—Recently published official figures show that in 1898
the Canadian gold output was $13,700-000, placing Canada in fifth place as a gold-producing country. Of the total product $10,000,000 was taken out of the Klondike.

Official estimates place the output
from the Klondike this year at $30-000,000 and British Columbia is also expected to do much better than in previous years, so that Canadians hope that Canada will soon be near the top.

The yield of silver is also growing larger from year to year; in 1897 it was $3,323,395, supplied chiefly by the British Columbia silver mines. The copper outfit is now past the $1,000,000
mark.

THE GAZETTE AGENCY
W. W. CLARKE, Manager.
Milton, Wis., April 7, 1899.

The town election was as usual a straight republican victory. C. S. Button for chairman of the board had a majority of 91 over his democratic-peoples-popolitane competitor. The independent republican ticket polled six votes, its head, ex-chairman Davidson, declining to allow his name run. $250 was appropriated to drain the water off of the Madison avenue road at Fetherston's mill. The usual appropriations recommended by the board, including street lighting, were voted.

W. J. Stockman, who has been on the sick list most of the winter and has been away taking treatment, is at home again and much improved.

SHOPIERE WOODMEN GATHER

Demise of Frank Elmer Truesdell, of This Village

Shopiere, April 7—The Modern Woodmen of Camp No. 1875 have been looking forward to the time when their camp would number one hundred members. We now have that number. The next thing in order will be a social gathering of the members and their families. A cordial invitation is extended to the Royal Neighbors of Magnet Camp to come and enjoy this great gathering with us. Supper will be furnished to both camps free. Outsiders will be charged the usual price for supper. The date is Wednesday evening, April 12th, at Fraternity hall. Frank Elmer Truesdell, was born in Shopiere, Rock county, Wisconsin, February 10th, 1864 and died April 1st, 1899, of paralysis. Three children, Harold E., Wright H., and Frank W. Truesdell survive him, also his father and mother, William H. and Eliza M. Truesdell, three brothers, Charles E., William S. and Merton J. Truesdell and three sisters, Mrs. Cora A. Kilbourn, Mrs. Ida M. Watson and Mrs. Luella B. Sparr. Deceased was a member of the first Baptist church of Fort Madison, where he resided until a short time before his death. His boyhood days were spent in Shopiere, moving with his parents from here when about ten years of age, residing for a while in Rockford, from thence to Fort Atkinson, where he resided until about two years ago, when stricken with paralysis, he returned to the home of his parents. Mrs. Bostwick arrived home from Chicago a few days ago, after spending the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Beckworth. Farmers are getting very anxious to get to work, for almost all of them have a big spring's work before them and a late spring at that. The big brick chimney at the old distillery in Turtleville, built by Mr. Hodson, was tipped over on Wednesday last. It was about sixty feet high and would have stood for years to come if it had not been molested.

AMUSEMENT EVENTS OF LAST EVENING

"WHO IS WHO" PLEASSED AN AUDIENCE AT GRAND.

Concert Given By Tuller's Orchestra at
the Butcher's Ball—Two Hundred Couple Participated In Festivities—
—Young Men Gave Social Dancing Party.

Last evening at Myers' Grand a fair sized audience greeted Kelly & Mason in their clever farce comedy "Who is Who." The production was one of the very best in the farce comedy line ever witnessed by Bower City theatre-goers and all enjoyed three hours of solid fun. Everything was kept on the move from the rise until the fall of the curtain. In the comedy of complications the Kelly & Mason Co. has a vehicle admirable suited to their untutored style as well as one that admits of almost unlimited introduction of specialty features without in any way marring its consistency or destroying its plot. It is a decided novelty to contemplate a musical farce comedy with a well defined and intelligible story. The natural action of "Who is Who" is complete with the most laughable situations, and the fun is just as the bill described it, "One ceaseless drive."

One of the features on the program was the German singing society, a male quartette that was encored again and again. Kelly and Mason are the leaders of the band of merry makers, but their support is exceptionally strong. Miss Cummings was a general favorite. She sang "My Own Manila Sue," a coon song. The specialties by Miss Cummings were all new and catchy. The Sisters Whiting, premier cornetists, and Harry N. Welch, eccentric song and dance man, were good features in the performance. The costumes were excellent.

Butcher's Ball No. 2

In the neighborhood of two hundred couples attended the Butcher's ball at the Armory last evening, notwithstanding the fact that there were other counter attractions. The gathering was a very congenial one and all enjoyed the festivities of the evening to the fullest extent. The floor was not crowded, in fact there was just enough room for real enjoyment. The hall was tastefully decorated for the occasion.

Tuller's orchestra of eight pieces from Waukesha furnished the inspiration, which was a great treat of itself and enjoyed immensely. A feature of the evening was a concert given by this celebrated orchestra and every number was liberally applauded. George V. Gray, of this city, rendered a clarinet solo and was compelled to respond to a hearty encore.

Prof. and Mrs. C. C. Williams, of Whitewater, led the grand march. At midnight supper was served at the various restaurants.

The dance came to a successful close at 3 o'clock this morning. The committee of arrangements consisted of C. H. Kueck, George E. Yahn, Otto Kronitz and John Daly.

The floor was in charge of Frank K. Petric, Max Gramke, Carl Kueck, Paul Spath and Albert Storm.

Young Men Entertain.

Twenty young people participated in a social dance last evening at the Caledonian society rooms. The gathering was in honor of several young ladies who had previously entertained the young men at a card party. Refreshments were served, and the merry making continued until the smallest hour of the morning. Following are the names of those present:

Misses—
Etta Griffin, Nellie Hayes,
Elizabeth Gagan, Grace Bladen,
Fannie Dooley, Nellie Cassady,
Rose Gagan, Fannie Ryan,
Edna Rogers, Ella Rudolph.

Misses—

Let Us Overhaul Your Bath Room.

A great many bath tubs in this city were put in years ago. Likewise water closets. They are foul, ill-smelling and unwholesome and a menace to health. Bath tubs were boxed in and pipes out of sight, often leaking gas and accumulating dirt. You should throw these out and put in a bright porcelain tub and a syphon water closet with exposed nickel water pipes. You will take more comfort than you can imagine. The price for this kind of this kind of work has got down to reasonable figures now. If you think of doing anything to your bath room, we will be glad to give you an estimate of the cost and other information and help which our experience would suggest.

O. D. ROWE

Her melancholy reflections were interrupted by the mistress of the house, who came to her troubled.

"Why did you refuse to dance with my nephew? He feels much humiliated."

Then the general passed.

"I am indignant! It was awkward!" he said.

Finally her papa came.

"I am furious! What caprice! Are you mad? I wish you to dance with this young man at once!"

Lucette was very pale. She did not know what to say. She foresaw a scandal, and felt like crying.

But just then there was a commotion, and the dowager Miramas entered. All except Lucette went to meet her and greet her.

"Oh, my friends!" she exclaimed, still out of breath. "I have seen a miracle—a true miracle. You know that every Christmas I fill my carriage with toys, go to every poor man's house, enter and put the playthings in the slippers myself. God alone knows what slippers I see, slippers with scarcely any soles, slippers all in holes, slippers in every state of destruction. To-night, for the first time, I found at Hubert's, the hedgemaker's, two adorable little blue satin slippers, two wadded slippers, soft and small, and I understood the invitation, and put the most beautiful things I had in these pretty jewel cases."

There were ahs! and ahs! of surprise. Then the crowd scattered. The dowager perceived Lucette immobile and silent.

When Lucette saw the dowager advancing toward her she was filled with dismay, and instinctively lowered her skirts and thrust her feet so far under the chair that she almost fell. The dowager took her hand and led her gently across the ball-room, Lucette not daring to resist.

Stopping on the soft carpet of the room adjoining the ball-room, the dowager smiled and said:

"It is less cold here, isn't it?" and she called the general's nephew, who was pointing in a corner.

"If you aren't afraid of a little girl who loses her slippers while going to a ball, dance with her here on the carpet. That will make her warm."

Some minutes after the guests made a circle around them. The general's nephew, a very clever and agile dancer, did not step once on Lucette's pretty feet—the feet which, covered by the silk meshes, peeped from the border of her skirt, then disappeared, twirling, pursuing, fluttering like two lively rose-colored birds.

The women, on account of the spontaneous charity, the men because Lucette's feet were pretty—all because the dowager dared to say it before them—were convinced that this new mode of waltzing was delightful.

was cold! And how the pebbles hurt!

Mr. Maroquier was standing before the gate, beating the ground impatiently with his foot.

"Come child, come!" he said.

Lucette felt a delicious, comfortable sensation as her feet sank into the warm, soft carpet covering the stairs. But beyond was the cold floor of the ball-room, and she advanced with short steps.

How could she conceal her slipperless feet? Fortunately, she was obliged to bow to a number of people. Lucette made very low courtesies. Quickly gaining a corner and seating herself on a low chair, she spread her skirts around her and put her feet under her chair as far as possible. At last she was safe! Not at all. An officer came up to her, bowed, and invited her to waltz. It was the general's nephew. He was charming, so charming that the blushing Lucette smiled, arose a little confused, and was about to accept his invitation when the cold floor reminded her of her position. She could not dance; her feet would be seen, and, blushing still more, she refused.

"Thank you, but I do not dance."

The general's nephew looked at her with astonishment, coldly bowed and left her.

Lucette knew that she had mortified him; that he would not invite her a second time to dance that evening, and perhaps never again, and her heart was filled with sorrow. Would her little act of kindness cost her as dear as that?

Her melancholy reflections were interrupted by the mistress of the house, who came to her troubled.

"Why did you refuse to dance with my nephew? He feels much humiliated."

Then the general passed.

"I am indignant! It was awkward!" he said.

Finally her papa came.

"I am furious! What caprice! Are you mad? I wish you to dance with this young man at once!"

Lucette was very pale. She did not know what to say. She foresaw a scandal, and felt like crying.

But just then there was a commotion, and the dowager Miramas entered. All except Lucette went to meet her and greet her.

"Oh, my friends!" she exclaimed, still out of breath. "I have seen a miracle—a true miracle. You know that every Christmas I fill my carriage with toys, go to every poor man's house, enter and put the playthings in the slippers myself. God alone knows what slippers I see, slippers with scarcely any soles, slippers all in holes, slippers in every state of destruction. # Rheumatism,

Stomach Troubles and General Nervous Debility are

Promptly Relieved by

Dr. Miles' Nervine.

Everybody knows or ought to know that the nervous system is the fountain which supplies every part of the body with its force. If this system lacks vigor and strength, not only will the muscles be weakened, but brain, nerves, heart, kidneys and lungs immediately suffer. The weakest spot will give way first. The weakening of nerves in muscles and joints is the direct cause of rheumatism. This explains why it may go from one part of the body to another so readily. Were it a blood trouble every joint would be effected at the same time. In nearly every instance this trouble has disappeared when the nervous system has been strengthened and invigorated. Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine purifies, vitalizes and enriches the blood. It soothes the irritated nerves, and feeds the wasted tissues. It gives motive strength to the muscular structure, healthful vitality to the nerve centers, and recuperative capacity to the organic functions of the system.

Mr. Howard Wemple, Battle Creek,

Mich., says: "I suffered for years with sciatic rheumatism; was laid up months at a time, and frequently was so bad I could not walk. I spent a great deal of money and treated with many prominent physicians, but nothing seemed to cure me. In August, 1895, while confined to the house with a severe attack, I read about Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine having cured a case just like mine. I began to use it, and before the bottle was half used up I was able to return to my work, but I continued taking it for some weeks. I have worked steadily ever since, and have enjoyed the very best of health."

Following is a letter written by Mrs. Geo. H. Smith, of Provincetown, Mass. Mrs. Smith says: "I would lie night after night unable to get to sleep or to get any rest. I became nervous and irritable, had distressing pains in my stomach and a soreness in the left side that at times seemed almost unbearable. I suffered constantly with severe headaches and palpitation of the heart, and in fact was nearly prostrated. I was advised to try Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, and after the first bottle I began to get better."

The distressing stomach trouble left me and I no longer suffered that dreadful soreness in my left side. I took eight bottles of the Nervine and was completely restored to health. Now I can sleep as peacefully as a child and no longer suffer from blinding headaches and palpitation. I cannot speak too highly of Dr. Miles' Nervine and would advise others who suffer from nervous troubles to give it a trial."

"I have used Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine for stomach troubles and general debilitated and run down conditions. I find it a first class remedy and in every way all that is claimed for it."

THIS DAY IN HISTORY.

1770—William Wordsworth, English poet, born; died 1850.
1780—Dr. William Ellery Channing, distinguished Unitarian divine and one of the most eloquent American writers, born at Newport, R. I.; died 1842. Dr. Channing inherited high moral worth and intellectual powers from both parents. At his graduation from Harvard the English oration, an exceptional honor, was assigned him. After holding a tutorship in a family in Richmond he became active in public questions, was an abolitionist and a peace advocate. Dr. Channing's merits as an orator and writer were a clear, elegant and forcible style and an unyielding devotion to truth.
1804—Ben King, the western poet and humorist, died at Bowling Green, Ky.
1806—Representatives of Great Britain, France, Germany, Russia and Italy presented a joint note to President McKinley on the Spanish situation.

OPPOSES FAVORS FOR ENGLAND.

The New York Irish World does not favor concessions to England, using these arguments:

We are informed that "tariff revision would be accepted by England as the one indisputable proof of the friendly sentiments of the United States." Nothing short of a tariff which would be virtually a free trade measure would be acceptable to England. Our Anglophobes are aware of that fact and are quite willing to sacrifice protection in the interest of a closer union with the country of their love. If their leadership prevails the republican party will turn its back on the principles for which it so long battled and become simply a political organization to advance British interests in this country.

Let us hope that the party of Abraham Lincoln and of James G. Blaine will never sink so low as this. Today the advocates of imperialism, and of a British alliance, are the enemies in its ranks whom it has most to fear. They are willing to sacrifice all the traditions of the party to carry out their plans, and it will not be at all surprising if in the fear future they demand that the policy of protection shall not stand in the way of these plans.

If we had been as content to allow foreigners to furnish us with our manufactures as we have been content to permit them to furnish us with ships with which to do our foreign carrying, is it not a foregone conclusion that we should have been far behind our present manufacturing and industrial development? Who can say to what extent the lack of our own ships with which to do our own carrying has held back our greater national development—Schenectady (N. Y.) "Union."

Machinery made in the United States is now humming in a saw mill at Kasau, Eastern Russia.

When it costs nothing to be a gentleman, how can anyone afford to be a boor?

"LITTLE LIGHT HOUSE GIRL."

Sailor Who Has a Tiny Friend at Savannah, Ga.

Sailor Jack is generally supposed to have a sweetheart waiting his arrival in every port, but the belle of the sea on the south Atlantic coast is "the little lighthouse girl" who lives near the harbor of Savannah. "The little lighthouse girl" is the officially accepted title of Miss Florence Martus, who has for the last eleven years waved a friendly signal to every craft passing between the city and the sea. It is the hobby of this young girl to greet the ships that go and wish them a safe return, and greet the ships coming and congratulate them on their voyage. She says that the ships are her world. She hasn't much world outside of the marine houses, to be sure, for she lives with her brother and her mother on the bleakest, most uninviting island imaginable on the southern bank of the Savannah river, ten miles from town. The Martus dwelling is the only habitation on Elba island. There is no landing wharf, and visitors arrive on an average once a year. George Martus attends to the range of lights which keep the pilots in the right part of the most tortuous channel in that part of the ocean. Beside the lighthouse is the cottage where these three persons spend their lives. The barks, the steamers, the schooners and the various other craft never get near enough for an exchange of greetings other than that expressive, form of good will, the waving of a handkerchief by day and of a lantern by night. And as the girl sends out her welcome the seamen, who all know her and who would resent the elimination of the ceremony which she has popularized, send back an answering salute, three "toots" of the steam whistle. Then Miss Martus is as happy as a belle at a debutante party.

Mrs. De Goode—What did the minister preach against to-day? Mr. De Goode—(wearily)—He preached against time.

THE MISADVENTURE.

It is said that Arnold Preston and Mary Culliford, though the happiest and most devoted of married couples, became engaged by misadventure. I have the story on the excellent authority of one of Preston's most intimate friends, to whom it was related as a special secret. It came to my ears, though—but that is the way of secrets. From his earliest days Preston was a favorite with the ladies. There must have been something feminine in his nature that made him a completer man than most of us. As a girl, from whom I sought an explanation of the mystery, once said to me: "He seems to understand you so."

Living very much with his emotions, he was destined to reap considerable trouble from affairs of the heart. At the period of life when call-love attacks a boy, or the man he imagines himself to be, Preston was never in love with the same girl for more than a week at a time. There were no Quizzes of Golden Curls or Pursuits of Well-Beloveds in those days to hold up the mirror to his state of mind or furnish him with palliation or excuse. His sole desire was to cling for life to the rock of a single stable affection, and be all that a steadfast lover should be. Alas! the shifting sands of interest were ever hurrying him in a new direction. A look from a pair of bluer eyes, a smile from rosier lips, and he was again adrift at the mercy of those shifting currents, his inconstant feelings. It was a serious trouble to him.

But one day the star of his destined love did appear to him. He had not read Masterlinck, but that is how, deriding plagiarism, he would have phrased it. Fixed in the heaven of his love she shone for three whole months with unvarying brilliancy; the duration of time was alone quite sufficient to prove the success of his quest.

But that was not the only proof. Never had his feelings known such disturbance. He was stirred to the center of his being, her mere presence reducing him to a condition of palpitating nerves. He lost all sense of humor, which was serious, and preached the gospel of intensity as the one means of converting existence into life. He knew nothing, morning, noon, or night, but that one fact of his love—his private, personal love, blazoned across heaven and earth. Men and angels were called upon to listen to the story of Arnold Preston's passion for Agnes Simpson.

There was one drawback, however. He had sorrowfully to admit that his love was not reciprocated. The direct question had not been put, but intuition told him so. There was no flame in her eyes like unto his, and she was still able to start the most ordinary topics of conversation. A remark on the weather, for instance, did not appear to her ears the rank sacrilege that it did to his, tingling with celestial music. For a long time he comforted himself with the reflection that his income of love was sufficient for two, though the process of halving he found faint attempt was not an easy one. How to set about it?

In his perplexity Preston did the very worst thing possible; he consulted another girl. Now every one versed in the sex knows the insanity of that proceeding. But Preston in confessional mood saw nothing but the necessity of relieving his mind.

As the recipient of his trouble he chose Mary Culliford, his oldest girl friend. He had run races with her when in short frocks—the girl, I mean. He had grown up side by side with her,

After freely cutting up the gravel with his walking stick, an act which, instead of disguising, only further betrayed his agitation to the girl, he broached the topic nearest his heart. "Suppose, Mary, that you loved some one—a man, I mean—very deeply, and were not sure that love was returned, how would you act?"

Diver in icy Serpentine on a winter's morning never plunged so daringly. The sentence wound itself off like a reel. She looked up surprised, but sighted the passion in his question, and sought the depths in herself whence alone the answer could duly come.

"I am afraid, being a girl, I should simply have to wait in silence."

"Well, suppose you were I, then—man—and loved a girl with every atom of your being. Suppose it choked you to keep quiet, and yet you dreaded her possible answer like the plague. Suppose—but there, you can see how I feel. What would I not give to know that she shared these feelings, too?"

Preston spoke with such ardor and warmth that the misunderstanding which ensued was not in the least extraordinary. Mary had never heard such a speech from a man's lips before, and, knowing nothing of Preston's other affair, she took it to refer to herself. She was a modest girl, and her first disposition was to flee. Totally unread in those popular weeklies that minister to the needs of sentimental misses, she could recall no guide to conduct in this difficult crisis. And she cared for Preston—cared for him far more deeply than she had ever supposed. In this moment of revelation her heart stood clearly forth and she let it speak for her. In a voice thin, quivering, yet rich with sincerity she replied:

"Suppose she loves you, after all?"

Preston could not mistake the personal inflection in the tones. He turned sharply round, and caught her eyes before they went down. There was an open declaration in them that yet in no way shamed her womanhood. What had he done? How should he act now? He might point out the misunderstanding, but it would be terrible for her; she would feel that she could never look him in the face again. For her honor's sake, he must not retract.

There were doubtless other considerations at work. Perhaps he was sick of the turmoil of his emotions. Perhaps he had begun to suspect that ideals were unmarketable, and that that other great love of his would never have fulfillment. Perhaps he was tired of chaff about his butterfly propensities, and yearned for engaged responsibility. Perhaps Mary's eyes that moment attained a depth of blue he had never seen elsewhere, and her heartfelt words had laid a rosin on his lips unknown there before. The inner facts we shall never know; the outer were that Preston caught her hand in his, and poured into her ears a confession that five minutes before had been intended for another girl.

Next day the whole of our little world knew that Arnold Preston was engaged to Mary Culliford. A considerable friend of his posted us with the news as we went into church, so we were delightedly independent of the sermon for a source of reflection. In the light of the details herein set forth, midsummer madness seems a light term to apply to the affair; but from a quiet observation of the pair concerned, I opine that heaven sometimes coaxes at a marriage by misadventure.—Exchange.

"SUPPOSE SHE LOVES YOU?"

and knew her with an intimacy that rendered ridiculous any notion of romance between them. A plain, matter-of-fact girl, she would look at the affair in a common-sense light, and give him golden advice. He could talk to her as to a sister. Yet even Preston's knowledge of her sex had limitations, for this is what happened. He called for her one Saturday afternoon, when he had put office work away from him and was free to live until Monday morning the unhampered life of the sentiments. It was a glorious day, and she made no demur to a walk.

They wandered their way to a park, not unknown to North Londoners, whose natural loveliness the county council has wisely left alone. For such a conversation as Preston contemplated atmosphere and surroundings were everything. He chose a shady seat that overlooked the lower of the two ponds, across whose surface some swans and ducks sported. In the background there was a rustic bridge crossing a miniature waterfall, to border which a pretty rockery had been constructed. Had Preston been a scientist, he could not have studied more closely the relation of the environment to the subject in hand.

It is a rule at the well-known banking house of Coutts & Co., London, that none of the bank clerks wear mustaches. It has long been considered a point of business etiquette that all the gentlemen employed at the bank should wear frock coats during business hours.

Colonized Over 1,000 Years Ago.
Iceland is the oldest colony possessed by any European country. It has belonged to Denmark since 1389. Originally colonized by Norwegians in 874, it remained a republic till 1292, when it became subject to the Norwegian crown. In 1389 Norway and Denmark were united and when these two kingdoms separated Iceland remained Danish.

The Devil in a Candlestick.
An odd candlestick is in bronze of the brilliant flaming red always assumed by Mephistopheles in masquerade. It represents his satanic majesty in all the familiar brilliancy, with horns and cloven foot, the latter serving as a standard. The tail is curved into a loop handle for the candlestick, and the candle itself, of the same flaming red wax, fits between the horns.

IT WAS A FALSE REPORT

J. P. Baker Not to Appear—Golf Club Lady Minstrels a Certain Success

Some individual with much imagination has spread the report that J. P. Baker, the genial west side druggist, will render a rag-time ballad in the Lady Minstrels. This report is said to be totally unfounded. Though he has been urged by many admiring friends to render something fearful and pathetic he has persistently refused, preferring to leave all the honors to the ladies. In justice to him and the ladies, therefore, this denial is published.

It has also been said that a prominent member of the golf club house committee would give a song and dance sketch, appearing in skirts in order to make the deception complete. Now, it may as well be said right here that the member in question has with great persistence tried to get on the program, but has been refused in order that the ladies might have the program wholly to themselves. His friends may as well therefore rid themselves of their fanciful ideas at once.

The ladies, the ladies alone, the ladies in full array of golf club colors will give Janesville a treat Monday evening that will be long remembered. Two box parties were organized today and the show will be the society event of the year.

A feature which the committee was fortunate enough to secure this morning was the orchestra of fourteen pieces from the school for the blind. The orchestra has just made a very successful tour of the state and this will be the first appearance in Janesville.

There is a surprise awaiting Janesville people when they see the minstrel talent that has been in reserve. The seat sale opens tomorrow morning and will go with a rush.

A UNIQUE AFFAIR

Royal Rex Carnival and Masked Ball—Something New to Janesville

A masked ball out of the ordinary run of amusements to Janesville, will take place at the Armory on next Tuesday evening, under the auspices of the Veiled Prophets.

King Rex and his court will hold high carnival and will issue a proclamation that will be of intense local interest. Simonds and Stewart and Nichols' and Hogan, champion cake workers of the world, will walk for a cash price of $50.00 against all competition. Calcium lights will be used throughout the entire evening and the costumes and all details will be on a grander scale than any event ever given in the city. A grand mask carnival and ball will be participated in by the public and large delegations from Evansville, Elletts, Edgerton and surrounding cities have signified their intention of attending. Tickets will be 50c each and Smith's orchestra of eight pieces will furnish music.

DETTMER BATHED BUT DIDN'T SETTLE

NOVEL SUIT CALLED THIS MORNING.

Rock County Creamery Proprietor Is the Defendant and A. B. and M. A. Norris Are the Plaintiffs—Came to Janesville to Take Baths For Rheumatism.

Because W. H. Dettmer failed to settle a $267.50 "bath bill" at the Norris Sanitarium, he now finds himself defendant in a law suit, called this morning before Judge Fifield of the municipal court of Rock county.

The entitled action is that of A. B. and M. A. Norris vs. W. H. Dettmer.

According to the complaint of the plaintiffs, they allege that for several weeks they treated the defendant for rheumatism and that such treatment was applied by the frequent giving of Turkish baths.

In 1887 Mr. Dettmer first commenced his treatment at the Norris Sanitarium and at that time he made his home in Platteville, where he was engaged in running a creamery. It is alleged that when Mr. Dettmer was first brought to Janesville for treatment he was so badly crippled from rheumatism that he had to be conveyed from the depot.

After several treatments, the plaintiffs allege that they had Mr. Dettmer's lost health regained to such an extent that he was able to walk about with the aid of a cane.

After arriving at his home in Platteville Mr. Dettmer alleges that he was again taken ill with rheumatism.

The plaintiffs now allege that Mr. Dettmer has failed to settle his "bath bill," claiming that he was not cured by the treatment.

The defendant in the action now resides near Hanover, where he is engaged in the creamery business.

When the case was called this morning it was adjourned till Monday, April 17.

Sutherland & Nolan appeared in behalf of the plaintiffs and E. D. McGowan represented the defendant.

Each of the Three Governments Concerned Will Be Represented on the Commission by a Man of High Official Standing.

Berlin, April 7.—An agreement has been reached between the three powers (the United States, Great Britain and Germany) on two propositions, namely: The appointment by each power of a high official to investigate and regulate the conditions prevailing at Samoa, and the making of unanimity necessary in all decisions of these high officials. The newspapers hail the result of the negotiations with satisfaction.

Washington, April 7.—The German ambassador, Dr. von Holleben, called at the state department Thursday to felicitate Secretary Hay on the satisfactory adjustment of the Samoan affair. Even as late as Wednesday night the last possibilities of a hitch had not disappeared, but late in the day official dispatches were received from Berlin stating that as a result of conferences between the German, British and American representatives a settlement was assured.

The main feature of this conference was a determination that the high commission would act by unanimous vote and not through a majority. This is on the theory that the delegates will be of high character, that unanimous agreement will be certain, although there is, of course, the possibility of a deadlock. The present tendency is not to provide a final arbitrator, but to assume that the commission will agree among themselves. This eliminates for the present King Oscar of Sweden, who has been mentioned for umpire.

The German ambassador and members of his staff also made a call at the British embassy, thus further evidencing the agreeable relations which have suddenly taken the place of the rather strained conditions heretofore prevailing on Samoa.

It is the first decision of the kind under the new law, and will greatly enhance the chances of unsecured creditors.

Hogs sold nearly 5c off all along the line, average cost of most droves standing barely that much lower. Sheep again sold readily at former prices, while lambs went slowly and 5@10c lower, making 15@20c decline thus far this week, heavy native lambs continuing a burden at that full decline. The United States diplomatic representative at Bluefields has been instructed to lodge an energetic protest with the Nicaraguan government against the arbitrary and extortionate action of Gen. Torres, and this will be followed up by more substantial action if the protest is disregarded.
